

CLASH OF JABEZ WHITE AND PAL MOORE FOR GRIDIRON

Bantam Headliners Clash at Southern

Pal Moore, Memphis Flash, and Jabez White, of Albany, Carded for Eight-Round Whirl—Kid Farmer to Meet McKinney in First Effort to Come Back

BY BOB FIGUE.

ANDING OUT A DECISIVE LACING to Jabez White, of Albany, N. Y., is the task now confronting Pal Moore, Memphis bantam, and king of the midwest contingent. Moore and White are in readiness for their eight-round mill at the Southern Athletic club, which is billed for Monday night, and both boys enter the arena claiming that they will be returned the victor. Moore is the favorite among local betters, although White is also well backed, on account of the deadly right hand that he packs. No decision will be rendered by Referee Billy Haack on account of Moore's contract to retrain French champion, which bout is booked for London on Dec. 26.

Moore and White appeared before a good-sized crowd of railbirds Sunday afternoon in brief workouts, doing a bit of shadow boxing and limbering up generally. Neither boy did any boxing, owing to the fact that they are already in good condition and did not need any milling. Both are on edge and are in tiptop shape to put up a fast battle in every round.

WHITE CARRIES WALLOP.
Jabez White is one of that rare species of bantam fighters which carries a wallop and has already given Pal Moore practical demonstrations of his ability to hit. White has sent Moore to the floor on two distinct occasions, and says that he's going to do it again. White appears confident, and says that he is going to beat Moore or die in the attempt.

White is being handled by Ed McMahon, an old-time fight manager, who has handled many boys in his day, among the number being Tom Cowley, the English heavyweight. McMahon says that in White he has the coming bantam champion and that when White takes on Herman within the next few weeks, which match has already been made, White will trim Pete in every round and grab the title.

White hits with both hands, but his favorite punch is a right cross, which he wields with dangerous accuracy. He has sent many of the bantams to the floor with this wallop, and in addition, he has a jab that he calculates and keeps Moore busy watching out for.

MOORE BETTER BOXER.
Moore has the edge on White when it comes to boxing, and will be an easy winner if he can keep out of the range of White's heavy firing. Moore is fast on his feet, is able to hit and get away, and is also quite an adept at making his opponent miss. Moore hits with both hands, and in the past four fights he has had with White has been able to outpoint him.

Moore admits that White has a terrific punch and that on the two occasions he was dropped by White he thought someone had turned out the lights. Moore is always willing to receive an opponent's credit, and says that Jabez is one of the hardest punchers he ever saw.

However, Pat says that he is not bothered over the outcome of the Monday night mill and that he will outpoint White so far that no trouble will be found in picking the winner.

It promises to be a whirlwind affair from start to finish, and the two best boys in the bantam outfit.

FARMER'S COMEBACK.
Kid Farmer, a local favorite of the long ago, has picked a hard nut for his comeback stunt. Farmer has chosen Dummy McKinney, a Memphis welter, in an eight-round mill, which will serve as the curtain raiser, and the bout is certain to be a battle of attrition through-out. Farmer will give away several rounds to McKinney, as Farmer will be a little heavier than a lightweight, at which figure he has always fought here-tofore.

Farmer is anxious to get on in a main bout here and if he shows sufficient ability to defeat McKinney he will be accommodated.

Another eight-round affair, which will be the curtain raiser, will be between Kid Roy, Memphis negro lightweight, and Young Kid Black, of Camp Pike, Ark. Roy and Black are both good fighters, and the bout is expected to furnish eight fast rounds of battling.

A battle royal will be staged. The S. A. C. jazz band will be there to keep things harmonious and jazzy.

The curtain goes up at 8:30 o'clock.

MINORS WILLING TO ARBITRATE
Will Enter Into an Amicable Agreement With Major Leagues.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The National Association of Minor Baseball Leagues, which has been in existence for many years, is willing to enter into an amicable agreement with the major leagues. The association, which is headed by John J. Ewing, of Chicago, chairman of the committee to effect this purpose, has decided that it will accept of a meeting of the association at Springfield, Mass., after J. Cal Ewing, of San Francisco, a member of the committee, has held his conference in New York last Friday with August Hermann, of the national commission, and President John J. Ewing of the National League, in regard to the restoration of relations between the major and minor leagues.

The minor league body decided to agree to the national agreement at a meeting in New York last January, but the national league body decided to postpone the agreement until the following season.

Resolved, that the national association approves the action taken by the minor league body at its meeting to enter into an agreement with the major leagues and it thereby resolves to continue this committee in order to continue the negotiation of an agreement between the major and minor leagues.
